

UNITED NATIONS
ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL

GENERAL

E/CN.12/311
7 April 1953

ORIGINAL : ENGLISH

ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR LATIN AMERICA

Fifth Session
Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
9 April 1953

COOPERATION AND COORDINATION WITH THE INTER-AMERICAN
ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL

(Document prepared by the Secretariat)

At its Fourth Session the Commission adopted a resolution inviting the IA-ECOSOC

a) through its Executive Secretary to join with the Executive Secretary of ECLA in a Committee on Co-ordination which should ensure a continuous co-operation and an elimination of any duplication in the work programmes of the two organizations; and

b) to appoint an official of the Organization of American States to study, jointly with an official of the United Nations designated by ECLA, measures which would be necessary and sufficient to ensure co-ordination at the government level in a practical and positive manner.

The Second Extraordinary Meeting of the IA-ECOSOC, held in Panama, from the 20-30 August 1951, accepted the proposals contained in the ECLA resolution referred to above.

The Co-ordination Committee was consequently established and its first meeting was held in Washington D.C. in January of 1952. It was agreed to review the Work Programme of the IA-ECOSOC and ECLA twice yearly in order to make arrangements for co-ordination and exchange of background materials and information, statistical data and staff.

During the second meeting held in Santiago, Chile, in February 1952, the Co-ordination Committee reviewed the IA-ECOSOC Work Programme for 1952 and that of ECLA for 1952/1953, reaching the conclusion that the programmes of both agencies do not include projects which involve unnecessary overlapping and duplication. For instance, the fields of labour and social affairs, concern the IAECSOC more directly than ECLA; and conversely technological research, the economic integration of Central America, the training of Latin American economists etc. are problems which do not figure in the current Work Programme of IAECSOC. The committee agreed on a division of work and collaboration on: a) the financing of economic development, b) monetary and fiscal problems, c) certain aspects of international trade and finance, d) problems of transportation, e) production and distribution of wood-pulp and newsprint, f) immigration, g) problems of agricultural development and industrial raw materials, h) housing and construction and lastly i) the improvement and utilization of statistics.

Document E/CN.12AC.16/9 (Annex I) presented to the session of ECLA's Committee of the Whole in February 1952, gives a full account of the first and second meeting of the Coordination Committee and of the cooperation and coordination between the two agencies up to that date.

The third meeting of the Coordination Committee was held in Washington D.C., on June 12th and June 27th, 1952. The Committee directed special attention to further discussion of some of the problems which had comprised its agenda for the second meeting, particularly: (1) financing of economic development, and (2) monetary and fiscal problems. The Committee agreed to continue consultations with respect to the progress of existing Working Programmes and on contemplated items, proposed for inclusion in the agendas of forthcoming sessions.

At this meeting it was also agreed that the secretariats of the two organizations would undertake jointly a study of the incidence and effects of taxation on the sugar industry in the Central American and Caribbean countries. This study in which IAECSOC, ECLA and the Fiscal Division of the United Nations collaborated, has since been published by IAECSOC.

/Other projects

Other projects on which ECLA and IAECOSOC have collaborated during 1952 and up to the present include housing, national income seminar, unification of tariff nomenclature and standardization of trade statistics in Central America, transportation in Central America, immigration, exchange of information on Latin American trade statistics and agricultural credit seminar.

The ECLA Committee of the Whole meeting in February 1952 and the Third Extra-Ordinary Meeting of the IAECOSOC held in Caracas from 9 to 21 of February 1953, took note of the cooperation and coordination of both agencies at the secretariat level through the Coordination Committee and expressed satisfaction for the way it has been carried out.

Annex II and Annex III contain the resolution passed by ECLA's Committee of the Whole and the statement presented by the Executive Secretary of IAECOSOC to the Third Extra-Ordinary Meeting as well as the resolution passed at that meeting.

With regard to review of coordination at the government level the Commission at its Fourth Session (June 1951) appointed Dr. Raul Prebisch as its representative. The Executive Secretary received on 15 December 1952, a communication from Dr. Alberto Lleras Camargo, Secretary General of the Panamerican Union, informing him officially that he had been appointed by the Council of the Organization of American States to represent the IAECOSOC for consultation regarding coordination measures at the government level.

The consultations on this subject between the Secretary General of the Panamerican Union and the Executive Secretary of ECLA are continuing.

The Executive Secretary would like to draw to the attention of the Commission that as at previous sessions of ECLA the IAECOSOC will be represented at this session of the Commission.

ANNEX I

UNITED NATIONS

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL

PROGRESS REPORT ON CO-ORDINATION BETWEEN ECLA AND IA-ECOSOC Joint Statement of the Executive Secretaries of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC

Background

The question of achievement of effective co-ordination and co-operation between the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Inter-American Economic and Social Council, as well as the measures to avoid any unnecessary overlapping between the efforts of the two organizations, have been under active consideration by those two bodies since the establishment of the Commission.

At the first session of ECLA, after a full exchange of views between the representatives of both organizations, an agreement was reached on co-operation and co-ordination.

In implementation of this agreement, frequent consultations on problems of common interest have led to the maintenance of close relations between the Executive Secretaries of ECLA and the IA-ECOSOC, and to active measures of co-operation, including the exchange of documents and materials as well as to the collaboration by the staff of the IA-ECOSOC in certain research projects of ECLA.

The co-ordination efforts of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC have been favourably reviewed at the sessions of U.N. Economic and Social Council. The debates at the annual sessions of the Economic /Commission for

Commission for Latin America and at the meetings of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council have emphasized the fact that the two organizations have been able to contribute to the understanding and solution of the economic problems of the Latin American countries while at the same time they have successfully avoided any unnecessary duplication between the work of their Secretariats.

In a joint statement presented to the second session of the Commission, the Executive Secretaries of the two agencies had declared that

"... Since both organizations must deal with similar problems in the same general field of research and study it is desirable that the studies made by one group supplement the results achieved by the other in such a way that the work of each will be greatly enhanced. It is our considered opinion that the test of effective co-operation lies in the net result of such combined efforts ... We believe, in brief, that the problem of co-ordination should not be viewed in a narrow sense, that is, in a sense that would point to a rigid distribution of technical assignments ... In proposing a plan whereby the absence of unnecessary duplication can best be guaranteed we are conscious of a great sense of responsibility... The Executive Secretaries should report ... to their respective organizations on the manner in which they meet their responsibilities in guarding against unnecessary duplication and in maintaining effective collaboration."

The subject of co-ordination and co-operation with the IA-ECOSOC was considered at each of the sessions of ECLA, which were also attended by representatives of the IA-ECOSOC. In particular, the Commission made at its Fourth Session a thorough review of the matter. The Commission members unanimously took the position that co-ordination at the Secretariat level is entirely satisfactory and agreed that the existing arrangements should be put on a more permanent and regular basis by establishing a permanent "Co-ordination Committee". (Annual report of ECLA to the Economic and Social Council, document E/2021).

/entirely satisfactory

At its Second Extraordinary meeting held in Panama in August 1951, the Inter-American Economic and Social Council also took up the subject of co-ordination and co-operation with ECLA.

The IA-ECOSOC in a resolution (IS-Res.32/51-E) expressed its interest and concern in "the making of arrangements of co-operation and co-ordination with other international agencies operating in Latin America, especially with the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America."

In this resolution IA-ECOSOC accepted ECLA's invitation to establish a committee on co-ordination.

First Meeting of the Committee on Co-ordination, Washington D.C.

In pursuance of the mandate contained in resolutions, the Executive Secretaries of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council and the Economic Commission for Latin America consulted on the ways and means to implement the provisions for co-ordination at the Secretariat level.

After an exchange of correspondence the Deputy Executive Secretary of ECLA on behalf of the Executive Secretary, met with the Executive Secretary of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council in January 1952 and established the Committee on Co-ordination.

/The agenda

The agenda of the first meeting included the following points:

1. Establishment of the Committee.
2. Preliminary review of the ECLA 1952 work programme.
3. Preliminary review of the IA-ECOSOC 1952 work programme.
4. Projects of common concern to both organizations.
5. Date and place of next meeting.

The following was agreed at the meeting:

a) In agreement with the resolutions of the two agencies, the Executive Secretaries, or their representatives, shall meet at least twice a year, in order to review the arrangements for co-ordination and the progress of the work programmes of both organizations.

b) With reference to methods of co-operation the Secretariats of both agencies, whenever desirable, will as in the past co-operate in carrying out projects of common interest. Such co-operation may take the form, as may be advisable, of provision of background material and information, statistical data and other documentation, the exchange of staff and participation of the staff of one agency in working groups of the other.

cc c) In regard to the procedures for maintaining close and effective liaison, the meeting re-affirmed the agreement of the two Executive Secretaries to keep each other informed through current correspondence and periodic reporting on the progress of projects of mutual interest and to continue to make available to each other relevant information and material.

d) The meeting further undertook a preliminary review of the ECLA work programme for 1952, on the basis of the work programme and priorities of ECLA approved at the Fourth session of the Commission (resolution 32 (IV) and of the information contained in the progress Report prepared by the Executive Secretary for the session of the Committee of the Whole of the Commission (document E/CN.12/AC.16/2/Rev.1). Arising out of this review the Committee assessed the relative interest of the two organizations in the projects presented in the ECLA programme.

/Second Meeting

Second Meeting of the Committee on Coordination, Santiago, Chile

The Second Meeting of the Co-ordination Committee was held in Santiago on February 8, 9 and 11, 1952. The Committee thoroughly reviewed the contemplated work programme of IA-ECOSOC for 1952-1953 and the programme of work of ECLA for 1952.

In reviewing the respective programmes of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC the Committee directed particular attention to those special areas in which each organization has a particular interest in view of the general nature of its work programme. In each work programme there are certain areas which involve practically no duplication and in its review of the respective programmes the Committee, therefore took note of such areas of the work only to the degree essential to assure the development and execution of well balanced programmes. For example, in the projects in the field of labour and social affairs which represent important parts of the programme of IA-ECOSOC, the primary emphasis is in general directed to areas of ~~research~~, consultation and technical assistance which are not parts of the basic programme of ECLA. Similarly certain ECLA projects such as the current industry studies, the survey of technological research, the study of economic integration of Central America, the inquiry on operation of the Free Zone of Colon, the training of Latin American economists, etc., are projects in which IA-ECOSOC has no specific counterpart studies in the current work programme. It is understood, of course, that since all of these fields of study are related to the general work programme of the two organizations, the Secretariat of each will be kept informed on the progress made by the other in carrying out its respective programmes.

/study are

The area to which the Committee, by virtue of the respective programmes of work, directed special attention at its second meeting, included: financing of economic development; monetary and fiscal problems; certain aspects of international trade and finance; problems of transportation; production and distribution of wood pulp and newsprint; immigration; problems of agricultural development and industrial raw materials; housing and construction; and the improvement and utilization of statistics.

1) Financing of economic development

ECLA has a primary interest in the analysis of capital investment needs in the Latin American countries. IA-ECOSOC has undertaken a study on the financing of economic development in which considerable emphasis is placed on institutional sources of savings and the means of financing economic development. It was agreed that ECLA will coordinate its own programme with that of IA-ECOSOC so as to assure a set of supplementary reports in this important field. In order to effect such co-ordination it was also agreed that at the earliest possible date a detailed outline of its study in process be submitted by IA-ECOSOC to ECLA for the latter's information and guidance.

/ 2) Monetary

2) Monetary and fiscal problems

Several governments have indicated an interest in holding a conference on monetary and fiscal policies relative to the requirements of economic development. The Executive Secretary has discussed with the Director General of TAA the possibility of holding such a conference in 1953. The Co-ordination Committee discussed the interest of IA-ECOSOC in this conference and the Executive Secretary of ECLA expressed his wish that the Secretariat of IA-ECOSOC participate in the proposed ECLA/TAA meeting of experts. It is contemplated that the Executive Secretaries of IA-ECOSOC and ECLA will discuss such collaboration as soon as arrangements have been completed with TAA and the other interested agencies.

ECLA, in collaboration with the Fiscal Division of the U.N. Department of Economic Affairs, is planning a study of the effects of taxation on capital investment. The Committee took note that IA-ECOSOC will touch on certain problems of taxation incidental to the work it is doing in this field of financing development and that continuing exchange of information will be essential.

3) Certain aspects of international trade and finance

The problem of developing adequate foreign trade statistical series now being carried forward by the Division of Statistics of the Pan American Union, is a matter of direct and immediate interest to ECLA in connection with the latter's studies in both finance and trade. In view of this common interest it is considered essential that each of the two organizations concerned collaborate very closely in achieving the best possible results in this field.

/interest it is

As a further step toward the common objective, it is contemplated to hold a meeting at U.N. Headquarters, of IA-ECOSOC, ECLA and the Statistical Office of the United Nations some time during the latter part of this year.

The Fourth Meeting of Consultation of Foreign Ministers adopted a resolution in April 1951 which provided in part that IA-ECOSOC, in collaboration with appropriate organs and specialized agencies of the United Nations, study the problem of maintaining the purchasing power of the currencies and monetary reserves of the American States.

ECLA at its Fourth Session in June 1951 adopted a related resolution with particular reference to the accumulation of foreign exchange balances in European currencies. This resolution authorized the Executive Secretary, if he deems it necessary, to ~~convene~~ a group of consultants to study the problem and make recommendations for its solution. Inasmuch as the accumulation of foreign exchange balances has not as yet become an acute problem, the Executive Secretary has not yet set a time for a meeting of consultants, but if new developments warrant it, a definite date will be set for such a meeting and the IA-ECOSOC will be consulted as to how the objectives of the two resolutions may be co-ordinated.

/In view of the fact

In view of the fact that IA-ECOSOC has initiated the study recommended by the Ministers of Foreign Affairs and is currently carrying forward the work under resolutions adopted at Panama by its Second Extraordinary Session, it was agreed that the Executive Secretary of IA-ECOSOC will keep ECLA currently informed relative to the progress made on this part of its programme.

4) Problems of transportation

IA-ECOSOC's immediate concern is with emergency problems of maritime transportation, maritime freight rates and insurance, the progress of the Inter-American Highway, and such problems of transportation as are implicit in specific aspects of the existing work programme. ECLA's work in this field is directed mainly to an analysis of the obstacles to and needs for transportation in relation to economic development. As an integral part of the project on the economic integration of Central America, ECLA and TAA, with the co-operation of the Division of Transportation and Communications of the U.N. Department of Economic Affairs, are making a study of transportation problems in Central America with a view to having its findings submitted to the conference on transportation problems in that area during the latter part of 1952. It was agreed that ECLA and IA-ECOSOC should consult regarding the programme of this conference with a view to enabling the ECLA/TAA study group to utilize materials and studies that have already been made by IA-ECOSOC and to having the Secretariat of IA-ECOSOC participate in the meeting of expert /consultants.

consultants.

5) Production and distribution of wood pulp and newsprint

The ECLA study on pulp and paper, which is one of the current special industry studies in process, is directed primarily to a study of "the present and future consumption of pulp, the availability of raw materials, the present capacity to produce wood pulp and paper and the extent to which existing technical knowledge on industrial processes could be applied to natural resources within the region for the manufacture of pulp."

The Secretariat of IA-ECOSOC has in process a technical report on the difficulties presently existing in obtaining newsprint, in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Fourth Meeting of Consultation of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Americas in April 1951. In view of the fact that this report will require an examination into "sources of production and distribution of newsprint under price conditions that are equitable for all the American countries", it follows that the Secretariats of both organizations will in part be concerned with similar aspects of the general problem of newsprint distribution. It is therefore considered essential that in order to avoid unnecessary duplication of effort, ECLA and IA-ECOSOC make provision for the exchange of statistical and other information. ECLA will transmit to IA-ECOSOC the data and information it has collected on this problem so as to assure that the two reports will supplement each other and contribute towards achieving as fully as possible the objectives of the respective resolutions under which the two reports are being carried forward.

/6) Immigration

6) Immigration

ECLA and IA-ECOSOC were represented at the first meeting of the Inter-Agency Co-ordination Committee on Migration in Latin America, held in Santiago on 7 and 8 February 1952. The Co-ordination Committee on Migration agreed that the activities of all the interested agencies should be co-ordinated insofar as possible, particularly through exchange of information and consultation. It is felt that ECLA's and IA-ECOSOC's activities in this field will be adequately co-ordinated through the work of the Committee on which both organizations will be represented.

7) Problems of agricultural development and industrial raw materials.

The Committee considered that the present work projects of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC in the field of agriculture are supplementary rather than competitive or overlapping. It should be noted at this point that ECLA's work in agriculture is carried out jointly with FAO.

In its work in economic development ECLA wishes to express a paramount interest in the results of the agricultural studies being carried forward by IA-ECOSOC in its current programme of work particularly the study on rubber production and manufacture as recommended by resolution XXV adopted in April 1951 by the Fourth Meeting of Consultation of Ministers of Foreign Affairs, and the studies on coffee being made on behalf of the Special Commission on Coffee.

/The Co-ordination Committee

The Co-ordination Committee also took note of the study now being undertaken by ECLA, as a part of the Economic Survey, on the possibilities of expanding production of foodstuffs and raw materials for export.

8) Housing and construction

In view of the fact that IA-ECOSOC has a broad programme in the field of housing, ECLA at its Fourth Session decided not to include housing in its special industry studies. However, the Executive Secretary of ECLA stated at the Committee Meeting that ECLA may wish to include in its programme of special industry studies a report on productivity in the construction industry in Latin America. The Executive Secretary of IA-ECOSOC took note of his statement and expressed the wish to co-operate in any appropriate manner should the inclusion of construction as part of its special industry studies be approved at a subsequent meeting of ECLA.

9) The Inter-American Statistical Institute

The Division of Statistics of the Pan American Union, as secretariat for the Inter-American Statistical Institute, is carrying forward as one of its recognized functions the development of statistical methodology and procedures in co-operation with the U.N. Statistical Office. The recent organization of an Inter-American Research Centre in economic and financial statistics in Santiago, Chile, which contemplates a 5-year programme, under the Programme of Technical Assistance of the Organization of American States, will contribute to the work in this field.

/work in this

The ECLA Secretariat strongly supports this project, particularly because of the contribution it can make to the work of the Secretariat by providing more complete quantitative information. The Executive Secretary of ECLA stated that the Secretariat would be willing to co-operate and assist in the work of the Training Centre to the extent that its resources permit.

. . .

Since the respective work programmes of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC must necessarily be viewed as balanced programmes, consisting of many ~~related~~ projects designed to achieve clearly defined objectives, this report should not be construed as an effort to place each project into an isolated compartment. Since we still believe, as emphasized in the Joint Statement of 1949 cited above, that co-ordination should not be viewed in terms of "a rigid distribution of technical assignments" no attempt has been made to cover necessarily every item in the respective programmes that might be considered as a separate assignment for purposes of research and study. It is believed, however, that the basis for effective cooperation has been firmly established in a manner which will achieve the two important objectives of permitting flexibility and assuring effective co-ordination.

/Annex 2

ANNEX II

CO-ORDINATION BETWEEN ECLA AND IA-ECOSOC
37(AC.16) Resolution adopted on 14 February 1952
(E/CN.12/AC.16/18, Rev.1)

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE OF THE ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR LATIN AMERICA,

NOTES the joint statement by the Executive Secretaries of the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Inter-American Economic and Social Council (document E/CN.12/AC.16/9);

NOTES that the Co-ordination Committee at the secretariat level has been established in accordance with resolution 31(IV) adopted by the Commission at its Fourth Session;

CONSIDERS that the principles set forth in that statement provide a sound basis for co-operation and co-ordination between the Economic Commission for Latin America of the United Nations and the Inter-American Economic and Social Council of the Organization of American States;

COMMENDS the Executive Secretaries for having agreed on a division of work and on collaboration on specific projects in which both organizations have an interest.

/Annex III-a

ANEX III-a

CO-ORDINATION BETWEEN IA-ECOSOC AND ECLA

Statement by Dr. Amos E. Taylor, Executive Secretary of the IA-ECOSOC to the Co-ordination Committee of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC, 13 February 1953
(ESSE-Doc. 56/53)

The resolution on co-ordination between the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Inter-American Economic and Social Council was approved on 15 June 1951 in the course of ECLA's fourth session in Mexico City. It recognized two specific aspects of co-ordination: 1) Co-operation and co-ordination between the two secretariats for giving effect to the programmes of work of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC; and 2) Co-ordination at the Government level.

The first part of the resolution strengthened the basis for co-operation (in carrying out the two programmes of work) which was laid down in a series of decisions and resolutions approved since the first session of ECLA held at Santiago, Chile, in June 1948. The second part related to co-ordination at the government level and recommended that Member States should adopt "appropriate administrative arrangements, in accordance with their particular circumstances, with a view to achieving wider understanding of the studies and resolutions of international agencies and also the highest possible degree of co-ordination of policy at meetings of these international bodies and agencies".

/With respect

With respect to the problem of continuing co-ordination between ECLA and IA-ECOSOC, the resolution of 15 June 1951 invited IA-ECOSOC, through its Executive Secretary, "to join with the Executive Secretary of ECLA in a Committee on Co-ordination which should guarantee on a continuing basis the adequate distribution of work or the application of the efforts of both agencies to the study and solution of leading problems, on the following conditions:

- a) This Committee should be composed of, in addition to the Executive Secretaries, the officials of both organization whose presence may be necessary to make co-ordination effective.
- b) This Committee should meet twice a year, or more frequently if the Executive Secretaries of both organizations consider it desirable".

In the matter of co-ordination at the government level, it was resolved to invite IA-ECOSOC to "appoint an official of the OAS to study, jointly with an official of the United Nations designated by ECLA, the measures which they consider necessary and adequate to ensure that co-ordination at the government level may be achieved in a practical and positive manner and to submit their conclusions to the subsequent meetings of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC for their approval".

At its Second Extra-Ordinary Session, held in Panama, the Inter-American Economic and Social Council, on 30 August 1951, approved a Resolution on Co-operation and Co-ordination with ECLA in which it accepted the invitation ~~extended~~ in the ECLA resolution of 15 June 1951. In accepting the invitation, IA-ECOSOC agreed;

/in which

a) that, through its Executive Secretary and the Executive Secretary of ECLA, it would set up a Co-ordination Committee for the purposes specified and in the form proposed in the resolution; and

b) that it would appoint an official of IA-ECOSOC to study, jointly with the United Nations official mentioned in the same resolution, the measures which they consider necessary and adequate to ensure that co-ordination at the government level may be achieved in a practical and positive manner, and to submit their conclusions to the subsequent meetings of the Economic Commissions for Latin America and the Inter-American Economic and Social Council.

Co-ordination at the Secretariat Level

In their joint statement of 11 February 1952, submitted to the Committee of the Whole which met at Santiago, Chile, from 11 - 14 February/1952, the Executive Secretaries of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC reported on the progress achieved in giving effect to the provisions of the ECLA resolution of 15 June 1951 and to the IA-ECOSOC resolution of 30 August 1951. Part of the detailed report of 11 February 1952 may be quoted:

"In pursuance of the mandate contained in resolutions,

/the Executive

the Executive Secretaries of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council and the Economic Commission for Latin America consulted on the ways and means to implement the provisions for co-ordination at the Secretariat level.

"After an exchange of correspondence the Deputy Executive Secretary of ECLA on behalf of the Executive Secretary, met with the Executive Secretary of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council in January 1952 and established the Committee on Co-ordination.

"The agenda of the first meeting included the following points:

1. Establishment of the Committee
2. Preliminary review of the ECLA 1952 work programme
3. Preliminary review of the IA-ECOSOC 1952 work programme
4. Projects of common concern to both organization.
5. Date and place of next meeting

"The following was agreed at the meeting:

a) In agreement with the resolutions of the two agencies, the Executive Secretaries, or their representatives, shall meet at least twice a year, in order to review the arrangements for co-ordination and the progress of the work programmes of both organization.

b) With reference to methods of co-operation the Secretariats agencies, whenever desirable, will as in the past co-operate in carrying out projects of common interest. Such co-operation may take the form, as may be advisable, of provision of background material and information, statistical data and other documentation, the exchange of staff and participation of the staff of one agency in working groups of the other.

/interest. Such

c) In regard to the procedures for maintaining close and effective liaison, the meeting reaffirmed the agreement of the two Executive Secretaries to keep each other informed through current correspondence and periodic reporting on the progress of projects of mutual interest and to continue to make available to each other relevant information and material.

d) The meeting further undertook a preliminary review of the ECLA work programme for 1952, on the basis of the work programme and priorities of ECLA approved at the fourth session of the Commission (resolution 32 (IV) and of the information contained in the progress report prepared by the Executive Secretary for the session of the Committee of the Whole of the Commission (document E/CN.12/AC.16/2/Rev.1) Arising out of this review the Committee assessed the relative interest of the two organizations in the projects presented in the ECLA programme.

"The Second Meeting of the Co-ordination Committee was held in Santiago on 8, 9 and 11 February 1952. The Committee thoroughly reviewed the contemplated work programme of IA-ECOSOC for 1952-1953 and the programme of work of ECLA for 1952.

/work of

"In reviewing the respective programmes of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC the Committee directed particular attention to those special areas in which each organization has a particular interest in view of the general nature of its work programme. In each work programme there are certain areas which involve practically no duplication and in its review of the respective programmes the Committee, therefore, took note of such areas of work only to the degree essential to assure the development and execution of well balanced programmes. For example, in the projects in the field of labour and social affairs which represent important parts of the programme of IA-ECOSOC, the primary emphasis is in general directed to areas of research, consultation, and technical assistance which are not basic parts of the work programme of ECLA. Similarly, certain ECLA projects such as the current industry studies, the survey of technological research, the study of economic integration of Central America, the inquiry into the operation of the Free Zone of Colon, the training of Latin American economists, etc., are projects in which IA-ECOSOC has no specific counterpart studies in the current work programme. It is understood, of course, that since all of these fields of study are related to the general work programme of the two organizations, the Secretariat of each will be kept informed on the progress made by the other in carrying out its respective programmes".

/made by

The Executive Secretaries of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC are continuing to maintain effective co-ordination at the technical level and, in their capacity as a Co-ordination Committee, met on 12 June 1952. In accordance with the decisions and resolutions adopted by their respective agencies, they have sought to avoid overlapping in the preparation of technical studies and have agreed that whenever desirable, general studies of common interest should be undertaken jointly through an exchange of experts. For example, in 1949-50, the Executive Secretary of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council provided an expert on agricultural credit to advise the Joint Working Group of the Commission and the Food and Agriculture Organization in their studies of agricultural credit in Central America. A year ago, the Executive Secretary of the Economic Commission for Latin America arranged that a fiscal expert should be seconded to the Secretariat of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council for the purpose of directing the preparation of the report: Sugar Taxation in Caribbean and Central American Countries, which is included among the documents for the present Extraordinary Session of the Council. These examples indicate the procedure adopted in similar cases.

Co-ordination at the Government level

As already stated, the IA-ECOSOC, by its Resolution on

/Co-ordination adopted

Co-ordination adopted at Panama on 30 August 1951, accepted the invitation extended by ECLA in its resolution of 15 June 1951 to appoint a member of the staff of OAS to study, jointly with a United Nations official designated by ECLA, arrangements for achieving co-ordination at the government level in a practical and positive manner. It was also decided that their conclusions should be submitted to subsequent meetings of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC.

On 9 October 1952, the IA-ECOSOC adopted a resolution proposing, for the approval of the Organization of American States, the appointment of Dr. Alberto Lleras Camargo, its Secretary General, as its representative for the study to be prepared jointly with Dr. Raúl Prebisch, representing the United Nations, concerning the problem of co-ordination at the government level. This proposal was agreed to and approved by the Council of OAS.

These two representatives are now studying the problem. In the past, this question had to be dealt with by correspondence and similar methods of communication. In future, the work will be carried on by means of personal meetings.

The discussions on co-ordination at the government level, conducted during the meetings in Mexico and Panama, showed clearly that great strides towards co-ordination at the government level could be achieved if the agenda for the annual meetings of the two organizations could be so compiled that the main items in the separate agenda were complementary. Any repetition of items or any conflict in their substance would hamper the effort to ensure continuing and effective co-operation at the Secretariat level.

The representatives of the United Nations and of OAS responsible for this study are now giving special attention to this aspect of the problem. They will wish to take into consideration all relevant factors before the final report is submitted directly to the two bodies concerned.

The Executive Secretaries of ECLA and IA-ECOSOC concentrated on achieving the high degree of co-ordination implied in the resolutions approved by the two bodies. In submitting this statement it is a pleasure to state that both the representative of the Executive Secretary of ECLA present at this meeting, and the Executive Secretary of IA-ECOSOC wish to express their appreciation of the progress achieved so far.

/Annex III-b

ANNEX III-b

CO-ORDINATION BETWEEN IA-ECOSOC AND ECLA

ES-Res.35/53 Resolution adopted on 21 February 1953
(ESSE- Doc:159/53)

THE INTER-AMERICAN ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL,

CONSIDERING that the Council at its Second Extra-Ordinary Session at Panamá approved a resolution on co-ordination with the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America;

AND that the Executive Secretary of the Council has submitted at this Session a statement describing how the recommendations contained in the Panama resolution have been carried out,

RESOLVES

1) To note that co-ordination between the Inter-American Economic and Social Council and the Economic Commission for Latin America is proceeding satisfactorily at the Secretariat level, through the Co-ordination Committee;

2) To note that the Council of the Organization of American States in October 1952 appointed Doctor Alberto Illeras Camargo, Secretary General of the Organization, to study jointly with Doctor Raúl Prebisch, Representative of the United Nations, whatever measures they may consider necessary and adequate with a view to practical and positive co-ordination between the two bodies at the government level;

3) To express the hope that the Secretary General of OAS and the Executive Secretary of ECLA will reach an early conclusion so that it may be dealt with as soon as possible by the said bodies;

/by the

- 4) To recommend to the Governments of member States:
 - a) that it is desirable to adopt any administrative measures they may deem appropriate for giving broader publicity to the work and resolutions of both bodies and for obtaining the greatest possible co-ordination;
 - b) that the delegates attending the annual meetings of the Council and of the Economic Commission for Latin America should, when formulating the work programmes of these bodies, take into account the projects in course of execution or preparation in either body, for which purpose adequate publicity should be given to any of the said programmes that are being planned.