SELECTED STATISTICAL INDICATORS

OF CARIBBEAN COUNTRIES

INTRODUCTION

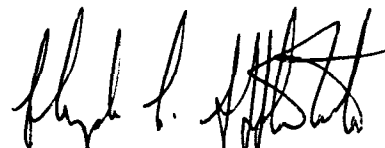

In this the Third edition of the document entitled Selected Statistical Indicators of Caribbean Countries, the major indicators as previously presented have been updated. The tables presented are intended to be a focus for institutions and persons wishing to access statistics on the Caribbean countries and an indication of the content of the statistical database. The holdings are wider than the tables presented, but their amplification has moved relatively slowly in the face of national budgetary priorities that often elide allocations to data gathering, processing and dissemination.

In preparing the tables, care was taken to utilize the most authoritative official figures available to ECLAC. Through the use of single and consistent sources of information, the possibility of publishing a table with internal conceptual inconsistencies was minimized, if not eliminated.

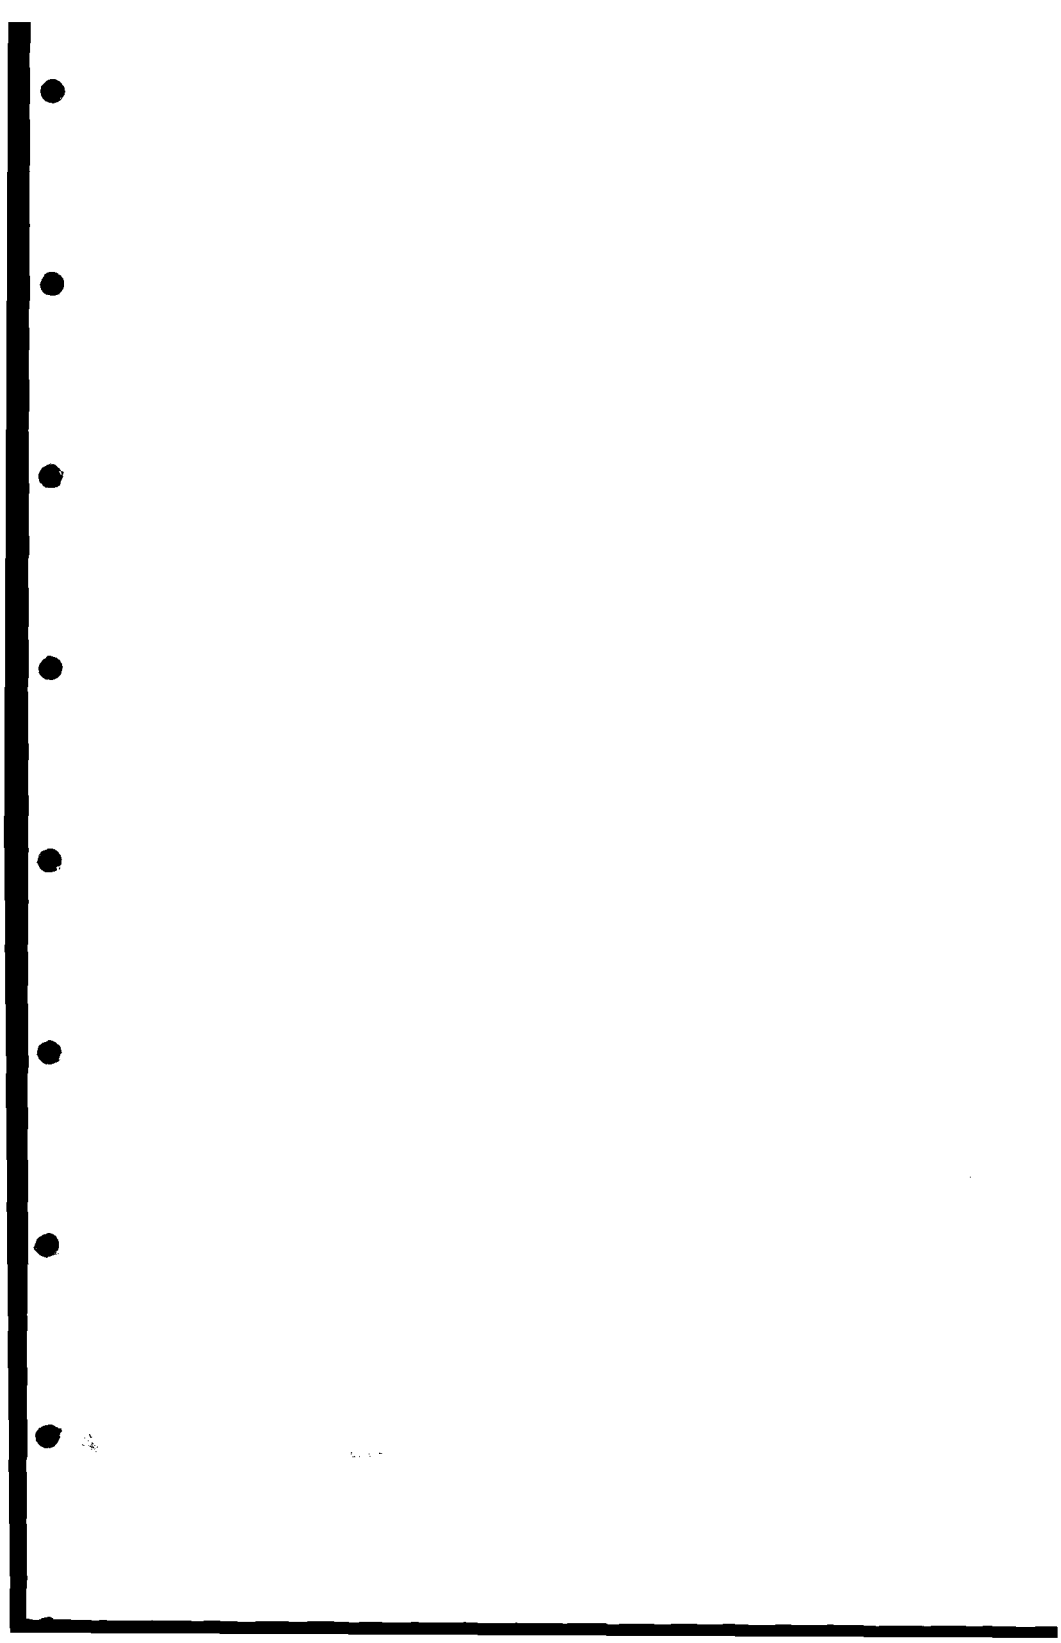

A number of the countries covered have made efforts to improve their information offerings and present them in a format easily understood by the researcher. To date, however, we have been unable to make a uniform presentation of tables across countries without the loss of some information. The plurality in the design of tables in this document derives from the differences in design of the tables at national level.

A soft copy version of this report is available in compiled form and is considered to be a first step toward the effective dissemination of a statistical database, the need for which was noted in the Colloquium on Statistics and the New Technologies that was held in Port of Spain in October 1989.

The ECLAC/CDCC Secretariat would welcome being informed of any errors noted in the data in this document, so that they may be rectified.

<1> 1980-84 data include Curacao and Bonaire.

<2> Reflects a 61.9% increase in water charges in January 1985.

Consumer prices were fairly stable in 1986 and came up during 1987, mainly attributed to an increase in duties on Beverages, tobacco and fuel levied in January 1987.

During 1988 consumer price increases reflected increased import prices for food, tobacco, clothing and footwear but the rise continued to be somewhat more modest than in the United States.
