ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR LATIN AMERICADRAFT RESOLUTION SUBMITTED BY FRANCE, THE NETHERLANDSAND THE UNITED KINGDOM, CONCERNING MIGRATION

CONSIDERING that migration can play an important part, along with other measures, in the development of Latin America,

CONSIDERING that the migration, particularly of skilled labour, can play an effective role in the development of programmes of technical assistance, and

CONSIDERING FURTHER that a surplus of man power already exists or may exist in the near future, in certain countries of Europe, which have developed valuable methods of production in agriculture or industry that may be applied to advantage in less developed countries,

NOTING the interest in this question taken by the Fourth Conference of American States Members of the International Labour Organization held at Montevideo from April 25th to May 7th, welcoming the proposal of developing an operating programme which might facilitate the solution of migration problems and sharing the view that Governments and International Organizations should co-ordinate action with regard to the various problems of economic development, migration and land settlement,

DRAWS THE ATTENTION of member Governments to the desirability of Latin American countries considering what practical measures they can take to encourage the migration
