

SP/12 ✓
February 1962
Santiago

Questions relating to item II-3

1. How could the basic guiding principles and the primary objectives of short-term policy be determined?

2. How should the economic policy measures to be included in a short-term plan be selected?

3. How could greater compatibility be achieved between short-term measures and economic and social development targets, and among such measures themselves?

4. What economic policy demands are created by the new patterns of external aid?