SELECTED INFORMATION ON THE BAHAMAS
SELECTED INFORMATION ON THE BAHAMAS

The Commonwealth of the Bahamas comprise an archipelago of about three thousand islands, fourteen of which contain the bulk of the population. The Bahamas cover an area of 5,353 square miles.

1. GEOGRAPHY

Location: The islands stretch out between latitudes 20°-27° North and longitude 72°-79° West.

Size: Approximately 5,353 square miles or 13,864 km².

Topography: Composed of calcareous sand originally derived from marine shells. Relief is generally low and flat, the highest point about 206 feet above sea level.

Climate: Sub-tropical - warm waters from the gulf stream keep water temperature high, while sea breezes moderate the summer temperature. Mean temperature is 76°F, humidity about 79% and average rainfall 56 inches per annum.

2. HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

Christopher Columbus sighted the island now known as San Salvador or Watlings Island on 12 October 1492. The Spaniards did not colonise the island but took the inhabitants to work on the mines in Cuba and Hispaniola. The islands served for a long time as a base for pirates but they were regarded as British Domain in the 16th century. Under the terms of the Treaty of Versailles in 1783 Great Britain finally secured the islands in exchange for East Florida. The islands remained a British colony until 1973. In 1965, Her Majesty, the Queen in Council, made the Governor of the Bahamas the Governor of Turks and Caicos Islands too.
3. CONSTITUTIONAL AND POLITICAL

Internal Self-Government was attained by the Bahamas on 7 January 1967 and it became independent on 8 July 1973. As a British colony, the Commonwealth of the Bahamas had enjoyed a form of representative Government since the middle of the 17th century when its affairs were managed by a Governor, a Council and an elected senate.

The Parliament

The Parliament comprises two houses - the Senate and the House of Assembly. The Senate consists of 16 members appointed by the Governor - 9 on the advice of the Prime Minister, 4 on the advice of the Leader of Opposition and 3 after consultation with the Prime Minister or such other leaders as the Governor deems fit. The House of Assembly comprises 38 members elected for a five-year term on universal adult suffrage (21 years and above).

Among the political parties in the Bahamas are:

1. PLP (Progressive Liberal Party)
2. UBP (United Bahamas Party)
3. LP (Labour Party)
4. FNM (Free National Movement)

The Executive

The Governor is appointed by Her Majesty, the Queen, and he acts in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister who is expected to carry with him the general authority of the Cabinet in all matters not specially reserved. The Cabinet is collectively responsible to the Parliament.
