INTRODUCTION

The Procedure Manual has been prepared in order to serve as a guide for the use of the personal author record card designed for the entry of personal authors into CARISPLAN data base.

It is essential that the form of entry for each personal author be the same in the whole data base. The only way to achieve this consistency is through an authority file that must be up-dated frequently.

The personal author record cards are the basis for compiling the Personal Author Authority File.

The personal author record card has eight fields which have been established according to the needs of the Information System. Each field is identified by the respective field number or title. The Field Definition Table provides a list of all the fields used in the personal author record card, their numbers and specific characteristics.

The fields can be: fixed-length, variable-length or repeatable.

A field is said to be of fixed-length when it has been assigned a specific number of characters which for technical reasons, must always be used in their entirety. For example, the "country" field is of fixed-length and two characters and the name of the country must be registered in accordance with the ISO two-character code.

A field is said to be of variable-length when it has been assigned a specific number of characters but it is not necessary to use all of them. For example, the "source of information" field is of variable-length with an assigned maximum number of 20 characters, which may or may not be used in their entirety.

A repeatable field is one which may occur more than once. For example, the field "other version" is a repeatable field with an assigned maximum of 50 characters. Each occurrence of the data element is treated as a separate entry and must be preceded by a number (#) sign to indicate that it is a different entry within the same field.

The characteristics and use of each field are detailed below.

FIELD DEFINITION TABLE

The Field Definition Table (FDT) contains all the fields used in the personal author record card, their numbers and relevant characteristics.

The number identifying each field is indicated in the first column; the name of each field appears in the second column; the third column contains the number of characteristics assigned to the field and the fourth column, the field's characteristics in terms of length.

In future, additional fields may be added to accommodate changes in the System. These will have to be included in the Field Definition Table according to the established format of the personal author record card and the requirements of the Information System.

FIELD NAME FIELD NUMBER ISIS NUMBER 01

DATA DEFINITION:

Identification number for each personal author entered into the data base.

PURPOSE OF FIELD: This field is used to register the ISIS number of an officially accepted personal author.

BASIC CHARACTER-ISTICS:

Fixed Length. 4 characters.

DESCRIPTION OF ELEMENTS:

This number is assigned sequentially for the purpose of identifying each personal author. It serves as a classification code for each personal author entry. The use of a code makes it possible to identify a personal author by the ISIS number, instead of writing the complete name.

The support for the information recorded in this field is to be found in a supplementary file containing the name of the personal author in full.

FIELD NAME

FIELD NUMBER

PERSONAL AUTHOR

02

DATA DEFINITION:

Name of the person responsible for the intellectual content of a document. This person could be the author himself or one who played another role, such as editor, compiler, translator, etc.

PURPOSE OF FIELD: This field is used to register the personal author of a document.

BASIC CHARACTER-ISTICS:

Variable Length. Maximum 50 characters.

DESCRIPTION OF ELEMENTS:

The elements of this field are: name of author - surname and name(s).

Personal authors should be entered according to the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, 2d. ed. The name of the author should be recorded completely if the information is available in the following order:

- surname followed by a comma and a space.
- first name, or initials if only the initials are known.

Remember that the personal author entry that you record on the card will be the only name accepted in the data base. An authority list of these names will be compiled for use in the System.

EXAMPLES:

ADAMS, Nassau A. BLUE, Clarence. DUNN, C.L. EATON, George E.

WHITTINGHAM, Wilfred L.

FIELD NAME	FIELD NUMBER
COUNTRY	03

DATA DEFINITION:

Country in which the personal author responsible for the intellectual content of a document is located.

PURPOSE OF FIELD: This field is used to enter a code representing the country where the personal author is located.

BASIC CHARACTER-

ISTICS:

Fixed Length. 2 characters.

DESCRIPTION OF ELEMENTS:

The name of the country must be registered in accordance with the ISO two-character code code (see Annex I)

The support for the information recorded in the field is to be found in a supplementary file containing the name of the country in full.

EXAMPLES:

GD

GY

ΗT

TT

FIELD NAME	FIELD NUMBER
SOURCE OF INFORMATION	04

DATA DEFINITION:

Source from which the aurhorized information has been chosen.

PURPOSE OF FIELD:

This field is used to record the source from which the information has been selected. It is important for internal purposes of verification.

BASIC CHARACTER-ISTICS:

Variable Length. Maximum 20 characters.

DESCRIPTION OF ELEMENTS:

The source from which the information was obtained must be recorded preferably in abbreviated form.

The title of the document from which the information was obtained may be recorded and/or its physical location.

Other sources such as the personal author himself, personal author authority files, biographical tools e.g. Who's who, etc. may be used.

When more than one source is recorded, the different paragraphs should be separated by a semicolon.

EXAMPLES:

CDC 0810

JMTRT 0857

CDC 1174; CDC 1169; GYP 0041

Jamaica: outline of tax system

Government financing in the Associated States; fiscal review of St. Vincnet

Environmental planning and development in the Caribbean;

CDC o5 author himself

FIELD NUMBER FIELD NAME 0.5 OTHER VERSION

DATA DEFINITION:

Name or names of the persons responsible for the intellectual content of a document other than that selected as the official name for the Personal Author Authority File.

This person could be the author himself or the editor, compiler, translator, etc.

PURPOSE OF FIELD: This field is used to record versions other than the officially selected name. From this information a see reference will be made to the officially accepted name registered in field 02.

BASIC CHARACTER-ISTICS:

Variable Length. Maximum 50 characters. Repeatable.

DESCRIPTION OF ELEMENTS:

The elements of this field are: name of author - surname and name(s).

Personal authors should be entered according to the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, 2d. ed.

The name of the author should be recorded completely, if the information is available in the following order:

- surname followed by a comma and a space,
- first name or initials, if only the initials are known.

If there is more than one version, they should all be recorded, each separated by a (#) since this is a repeatable field.

EXAMPLES:

CASTRO RUZ, Fidel BLACKMAN, Courtney Newlands BACHS, E.M. # BACHS, Ernesto M.

From these names a see reference will be made to the officially accepted name.

FIELD NAME	FIELD NUMBER
PARTICIPATING CENTRE	06

DATA DEFINITION: Identification of the participating information unit which sent the information to a Co-ordinating Centre for input to the Information System.

PURPOSE OF FIELD: This field is used to record the name of the Participating Centre from which the information originated.

BASIC CHARACTER-

ISTICS:

Variable Length. Maximum 20 characters.

DESCRIPTION OF

ELEMENTS:

The acronym or abbreviation of the name of the participating information unit should be recorded.

EXAMPLES:

CUMES CUJUCEPLAN

JMNPA

FIELD NAME	FIELD NUMBER
VERIFIED BY	07

DATA DEFINITION:

Name of the person who carried out the identification of the personal author for the Personal Author Authority File.

PURPOSE OF FIELD: This field is used to register the name of the staff member responsible for verifying the official name of the personal author. This field is required for internal use.

BASIC CHARACTER-

ISTICS:

Variable Length. Maximum 30 characters.

DESCRIPTION OF

ELEMENTS:

The initials of the person who did the verification are to be recorded.

EXAMPLES:

JM

RW

DATE	08

DATA DEFINITION: Date in which searching had been done, recorded in a standardized way, with the objective of making it retrievable for purposes of searching and up-dating.

PURPOSE OF FIELD: This field is used to register the standardized date on which the documentalist had identified the official name of a personal author and recorded it on a personal author record card.

BASIC CHARACTER-

ISTICS:

Fixed Length. 8 characters.

DESCRIPTION OF ELEMENTS:

The date of searching in standard form is recorded in the following order:

year: the year is recorded in full in the first four characters.

month: the month is recorded in the fifth and sixth characters with the digits OI to I2.

day: the day is recorded in the seventh and eighth characters with the digits OI to 3I.
