

Workshop on financing alternatives for anti-poverty programmes in Latin America and the Caribbean, sponsored by the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), the Organization of American States (OAS) and the Solidarity and Social Investment Fund (FOSIS) of Chile

Santiago, Chile, 20-22 June 1994

PROVISIONAL AGENDA

1. The challenge of eliminating poverty
2. Chile's national anti-poverty programme
3. The Social Network as a framework for the workshop
4. Characteristics of poverty in Latin America and the Caribbean
5. The framework for financing social investment funds
6. Financing by multilateral banks
  - a) World Bank
  - b) Inter-American Development Bank (IDB)
7. Financing by private banks
  - a) The case of commercial banks in Chile
8. Mobilization of resources through private development agencies: non-governmental organizations and foundations
  - a) The case of Colombia's Fundación Carvajal
  - b) Non-governmental organizations in Central America
9. Sources and allocation of resources in the region: some national experiences
  - a) Mexico's National Solidarity Programme
  - b) Bolivia's Social Investment Fund
  - c) Ecuador's Emergency Social Investment Fund
  - d) Trinidad and Tobago's Social Development Programme

10. The role of agencies that coordinate the mobilization of external resources for social investment programmes
  - a) The case of Chile's International Cooperation Agency
11. Conclusions and recommendations