ANNOTATED PROVISIONAL AGENDA

A. BACKGROUND AND OBJECTIVES

At the thirty-sixth session of the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), held in Mexico City from 23 to 27 May 2016, the member States adopted resolution 700(XXXVI), Mexico Resolution, which established the Forum of the Countries of Latin America and the Caribbean on Sustainable Development as the regional mechanism to follow up and review the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, including the Sustainable Development Goals and targets, its means of implementation, and the Addis Ababa Action Agenda of the Third International Conference on Financing for Development.¹ The Economic and Social Council subsequently endorsed the establishment of the Forum in its resolution 2016/12.

The Forum of the Countries of Latin America and the Caribbean on Sustainable Development is State-led and open to participation by all Latin American and Caribbean countries. It is convened under the auspices of ECLAC and guided by the principles established for all follow-up and review processes by the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, adopted in September 2015 by the United Nations General Assembly.² It involves States, the private sector and civil society, as well as subsidiary bodies of ECLAC, development banks, other United Nations agencies and regional integration blocs. The first meeting of the Forum was held in Mexico City in 2017, the second meeting was held at ECLAC headquarters in Santiago in 2018, and the third meeting will again be held at ECLAC headquarters in Santiago.

Chair

As provided in resolution 700(XXXVI) of ECLAC, the Forum will be convened annually by the Chair of the Committee of the Whole of ECLAC and will meet under the auspices of the Commission. Working document:

- Quadrennial report on regional progress and challenges in relation to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in Latin America and the Caribbean (LC/FDS.3/3)

3. Peer learning sessions

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development recognizes and underscores the importance for sustainable development of the regional and subregional dimensions in the follow-up and review processes, in order to promote accountability, support effective international cooperation in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals and foster the sharing of best practices and mutual learning. Regional and subregional frameworks can thus facilitate the effective translation of sustainable development policies into concrete action at the national level.

Pursuant to the wish expressed by the countries that the Forum should provide useful opportunities for peer learning, including through voluntary reviews, the sharing of best practices and discussion on shared targets, this session has been organized to allow the member countries of the Forum to report on and share their experiences and challenges in the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

The discussion themes will be:

- Challenges of implementing the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in the Caribbean: in accordance with the provisions of the 2030 Agenda, which recognizes that each country has different realities, capacities and levels of development and must address its own specific challenges to achieve sustainable development, and underscores the special issues facing the most vulnerable countries, this session has been organized to address the specific problems of the Caribbean countries, such as vulnerability to climate change, natural disasters and high debt levels, and the situation of the least developed countries and small island developing States.
- Institutional framework, planning and budgeting for the 2030 Agenda: the member States of the Forum agreed to develop ambitious national responses for the implementation of the 2030 Agenda. These responses should support the transition to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals, on the basis of existing planning instruments, such as national development and sustainable development strategies, as appropriate. The countries of Latin America and the Caribbean, as part of the effort to implement and coordinate their mechanisms for implementing and following up the Sustainable Development Goals for the achievement of the 2030 Agenda, have begun to link and coordinate their development planning systems and their respective national and subnational budgets. In the region, 27 countries now have a national tool for medium- and long-term planning. The competent authorities of the member countries of the Forum will discuss their respective national planning systems and budgets, with a view to efficient coordination of 2030 Agenda implementation.

- Implementation of the 2030 Agenda at the subnational level: the 2030 Agenda encourages Member States to conduct regular and inclusive reviews of progress at the national and subnational levels which are country-led and country-driven. The success of the review system will ultimately be determined by its ability to help translate the Agenda into a nationally owned vision and objectives, leading to transformative action. This can only happen if reviews building on existing structures draw on contributions from all stakeholder groups. In recognition of the importance of local stakeholders in the ownership, implementation and achievement of the Goals, the authorities responsible for subnational and local governments in the member countries of the Forum will discuss the challenges they face in their respective areas.
- Statistical capacities, measurement and georeferencing: at all levels, the 2030 Agenda follow-up and review processes must be rigorous and based on evidence, informed by country-led evaluations and data which is high-quality, accessible, timely, reliable and disaggregated by income, sex, age, race, ethnicity, migration status, disability and geographic location and other characteristics relevant in national contexts. The authorities responsible for the implementation of the 2030 Agenda in the member countries of the Forum will discuss their experiences and best practices regarding national measurement, georeferencing and statistical capacities.

4. Latin American and Caribbean and European interregional dialogue on implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development

As a region, Latin America and the Caribbean is clearly advancing in the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. Almost four years after the international adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals, the countries of the region are in a phase of development, upgrading and consolidation of their institutional mechanisms for coordination, national planning instruments for implementing the Agenda and multi-stakeholder agreements and partnerships for sustainable development. However, the 2030 Agenda is a global commitment that has been assumed by all regions. The European Union had created a high-level institutional structure responsible for promoting and coordinating the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals in close collaboration with society and with the representation of different interests. The aim of this session will be to share experiences and best practices in the implementation, follow-up and review of the 2030 Agenda between Latin America and the Caribbean and Europe.

5. The regional dimension of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development: contributions of the United Nations system

As highlighted in paragraph 4(c) of resolution 700(XXXVI), which invites the regional offices of the United Nations specialized agencies, funds and programmes to participate and engage in the Forum of the Countries of Latin America and the Caribbean on Sustainable Development in a coordinated manner, the United Nations agencies will report on their efforts to support and assist the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean in the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the Addis Ababa Action Agenda, in light of the reform of the United Nations development system⁴ being advanced by the Secretary-General.
